GAMBLING ACT REFERRED

A Joint Resolution Providing for the Examination of the Books of the Territorial Auditor and the Treasurer.

The tenth day of the legislative assembly was marked by short sessions though all the business on hand was disposed of. The council has been more prolific so far in the introduction of bills, but as every member of the house has a pet measure and as the members outnumber those of the council it will not be long before the lower house will be in the lead. The council committee on elections reported that they did not deem it necessary to present any measures as measures have been introduced or are in progress for intro duction covering the points in election laws wanting remedy. Among the bills introduced in the council were those for amending the criminal practice reiative to separate trials for criminals, amending sections of statutes relating to advertising for and making contracts for taking care of the poor and to regulate the practice of medi-

Both houses passed the reso-lution providing for the printing of 500 copies of the governor's message in pam-phlet form.

The full membership was present at the call of the roll and the usual preliminary business was transacted.

WALTER STEVENS DISCHARGED.

The Garvin Case Continued Until Next Mo day to Secure Witnesses.

> Walter Stevens, who uttered a forged check for $150 about a month ago, has been released from custody and will go west immediately. When the case was called up before Judge Sanders, County Attorney Balliet after scanning the testimony and evidence submitted, recommended that the court dismiss the case. The man on whom the check was passed was an unwilling witness, and the fact that Stevens' friends settled the trouble in a monetary sense, and the further fact that Stevens spent nost of the ill-gotten money in the house where he secured it, materially alleviated the feeling against the forger; these cir-cumstances led the county attorney to be-lieve that a case could not be secured against Stevens, and upon this recommendation the court dismissed the case. It is said that this is not the first or even the tenth time that Stevens has escaped punishment for the same offense.
